Dear Judge Jackson:

Congressman Vanik referred to me your suggestion for a law to make it a crime to prohibit the sending of anyone receiving public assistance to another state.

There is no question in anyone's mind about the ethics of the incredibly cynical course which is being followed by some groups in some Southern cities in paying transportation costs for Negro families to move to cities in the North without jobs, money, friends and any means of support. Obviously, the groups that are doing this are playing games with the lives of people, including a large number of children. The activity of the few whites who are involved reflects great discredit on the entire South.

But I am very doubtful that this is a matter that can be handled by legislation. There would be a serious constitutional question about any legislation which was intended to prevent someone from contributing money to a person who wanted to move and did not have enough funds for transportation expenses. The people who are moving are being deceived, but they are nevertheless moving voluntarily. We have attempted to check on any reports of threats to cut off welfare payments and the like, and have found no support for the reports.

In addition, an effort at legislation would cause a great deal more publicity and focus more attention on the problem. Since the whole purpose of this activity by the groups in the South is simply publicity, I doubt this would be helpful.

If you have any other thoughts, I hope that you will let either me or Congressman Vanik have them.

Very truly yours,

Modern Community Developers Inc.

May 28, 1962

84 NASSAU STREET, PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY
WALNUT 4-0701

Dear Burke:

Good news! Planned Communities, Inc., MCD subsidiary organized last year, has committed funds to four integrated housing developments:

Washington, D. C. Ground in the suburbs is being engineered for a new community. Riverdale, N. Y. A million dollar single house development is being readied for construction. Philadelphia. PC is committed to a $25,000 investment in land for a co-operative apartment house.

Apartment House Fund. A $250,000 revolving fund has been set up to buy apartment houses in the Washington, D. C.-New York area, to meet problems of non-white diplomats and Americans of all races. After each purchase, the fund will sell the equity to limited partners interested in our social goals, and will buy another building. PC will have about 20% of the equity for its efforts. The first building is now under our control.

All this has been made possible by the backing of the parent company, MCD, and by subscriptions of $200,000 from 400 investors, people who believe -- as you do -- that a man is a man and deserves equal access to housing. They put their beliefs into action by becoming Planned Communities stockholders.

The PC prospectus was sent to you previously. Let me know if you would like another copy. The prospectus clearly states PC must take the risks inherent in promoting a new pattern -- housing for all. The possibility of strong opposition, as reported in the book about Deerfield, "But Not Next Door," by Harry and David Rosen, has been minimized by years of preparatory work.

Stock subscriptions are needed now to carry forward and expand this work, especially in the District of Columbia, where housing discrimination is an international scandal.

A deposit of only $25.00 per share is needed to insure your participation in this practical work for equal justice in housing. A subscription form is on the enclosed envelope. Please use it today. I am counting on your support to develop new well-planned communities for people!

Cordially,

Morris Milgram

NOT NEXT DOOR

In November of 1959, the citizens of Deerfield, Illinois received the news that Morris Milgram, president of Modern Community Developers, planned to build two developments of one-family houses in this all white Chicago suburb. Of the fifty one homes to be built, ten or twelve were to be sold to Negroes.

What transpired in this type suburban community as a result of Milgram's idealism is the subject of the Rosens' extraordinary documentary of enlightened hysteria, fortified by what Senator Javits in his introduction to the book calls "the sad mythology of minority occupancy and property values." The authors have culled from experience, observation, personal interviews, newspaper stories, and court records. They stray into fictive form only in the introduction of three composite resident families, "created out of the feelings and actions of the people in Deerfield." Reproduced are circulars and minutes of meetings, characterized by continual disavowal of all racial concerns. But when fact and figure whittle away myth and misconception, a very ugly ultimate premise is often exposed.

superintendent live in the model homes, and the historic Deerfield case is now headed for the U S Supreme Court under the leadership of noted civil rights attorney Joseph L. Rauh, Jr.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS. Harry M. Rosen and David H. Rosen are brothers, born and raised in Boston, and pursuing careers in social work.

HARRY ROSEN was graduated from M.I.T. and received his master's degree in social work from Ohio State University. He spent four years in France with the American Joint Distribution Committee serving as consultant to the French Jewish Community on problems of social planning. He is now an executive of The Jewish Hospital of St. Louis.

DAVID ROSEN was graduated from Ohio State University, and attended Boston University School of Social Work from which he received his master's degree in this field. He has worked in Chicago for the past 14 years, and is an executive of the Jewish Community Centers Association. He has lived in Deerfield for five years.

ANNUAL REPORT

EXCITING DEERFIELD BOOK "BUT NOT NEXT DOOR" JUST PUBLISHED

A book about the Deerfield freedom of residence case, "But Not Next Door," by Harry and David Rosen has just been published (Ivan Obolensky, Inc., New York, 176 pages, $3.95. Foreword by Senator Javits). It is a well-written documentary. The condemnation of MCD's two sites there is now on appeal in the Illinois Supreme Court. The final decision on whether a community can condemn land to keep Negroes out will probably be made by the U. S. Supreme Court.

A week after publication, it has gone into a second edition! If you can, arrange for a review by some publication. The book is up-to-date, reporting how Joseph L. Rauh, Jr. has become volunteer chief counsel in this case, and how the American Freedom of Residence fund, headed by James H. Slater with Mrs. Roosevelt and Bishop Pike as honorary co-chairmen, are raising funds for this historic battle. The introduction of three composite Deerfield families facing their consciences gives added excitement to the story. Order it from MCD, 84 Nassau St., Princeton, N. J. Send $3.95, plus 25¢ for shipping. Use enclosed order form today.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. University Heights, a joint effort of 75 Providence residents, Star Markets, Inc., a super-market chain, and MCD has been chosen to sponsor a $7,500,000 Providence redevelopment job--a shopping center and several hundred apartments. MCD is receiving a 5% stock interest in University Heights for its role in promoting the venture and the preparation of the winning bid and also will receive fees and expenses. A tremendous vote of thanks is due MCD board member Irving Jay Fain, who tirelessly guided the effort, and to architects Victor Gruen Associates and Collins-Kronstadt, Inc.

WATERBURY, CONN. The first 4 families have moved into Country Club Homes, the planned 100-house development, on which sales have been slow. The major road into this tract overlooking the Waterbury Country Club is expected to be paved shortly.

WILMINGTON, DEL. This, our most Southern job, 29 homes, in which MCD has an equity interest and for which it has a contract to provide all direction, is winning community acceptance. The first Negro resident was elected treasurer of the local PTA.

DOWNINGTOWN, PENNA. Forty-six twin houses are planned for this community, in which MCD has relationship similar to that with Wilmington. Site plans are now complete and construction should start this year.

FIELDSTONDALE CO-OP. The last apartments have been sold in this 130-house co-operative in N.Y.C. About 9% of the co-operators are Negro.

BUTLAND TOWERS. It is hoped construction on this 120-unit co-op., of which MCD will be a co-builder, will be started this fall in Brooklyn, N.Y.

PLANNED COMMUNITIES PROJECTS:

Planned Communities, Inc. was organized in the past year as a subsidiary to develop new communities in the New York-Philadelphia-Washington area. About $200,000 has been subscribed to the subsidiary by over 400 people, about half of whom are MCD stockholders. Funds of PC have been committed to:

1. RIVERDALE (N.Y.C.). Plans for a million-dollar community, single homes overlooking the Hudson, are well along. Land has been purchased with funds provided by a group of local people, and PC will provide building funds.
2. WASHINGTON, D. C. PC, through funds put up by investors, has purchased $400,000 worth of land in the suburbs of Washington. Some is under agreement for resale at a good profit, and the balance is being subdivided.
3. APARTMENT HOUSES. PC is handling a revolving fund of $250,000 to be used to buy apartment houses in Washington, D. C. and New York City for integration with concern

FINANCES

As a result of a staff cut, it is hoped that this may be the last deficit year. It is probable that PC will show a profit before MCD does. MCD is a major stockholder of PC and will be a major beneficiary. The deficit is due partly to Deerfield, partly to the fact it often takes two to five years for projects to get off the ground. It should be kept in mind that the heartening award in Providence came after years of work in that city.

I look to the future with real hope. The passage of fair housing laws, the proposed executive order on housing discrimination, the excellent reviews of the Deerfield book, the new Washington-New York apartment house funds, the Providence award and MCD's more realistic budget all sugar well. In addition, we have developed new sources of support by working on investments for capital gains, with attention to investors' tax problems. I encourage stockholders and friends to talk with me, personally, about this. Those of you who serve on the boards of foundations, universities and other non-profit agencies are urged to sit down with me to discuss how institutions can invest to back their beliefs.

LIVING ONE'S BELIEFS

My friend Magr. John Egan of Chicago in the March, 1962 INTERRACIAL REVIEW quoted Pope John on the importance of living one's beliefs: "...one cannot acquire the correct use of liberty except by using liberty correctly..." Many MCD and PC stockholders do live in integrated communities in Philadelphia, Princeton, New York and elsewhere. Not everyone can move to new homes, but almost everyone can back his beliefs by some investment.

MCD BOARD MEMBERS ELECTED AT ANNUAL MEETING:

Benjamin J. Anderson
Chester Carlson
Dean Chamberlin

Irving Jay Fain
Morton S. Grossman

Joseph L. Rauh, Jr.
George J. Ritter

The two new board members are Chester Carlson, inventor of xerography, from the Rochester, N. Y. area, and H. John Weisman, Waterbury, Conn., attorney and chairman of the board of our subsidiary there, Meadow Homes. The same board was elected by PC.

RECOMMENDED READING

Fine reading is a novel, "A Dream of Mansions" by Norris Lloyd (Random House, N. Y., $3.95), a sensitive novel of a 12-year-old girl learning the disillusioning cruelties of life and race in a small southern town. The author grew up in the South and now lives in Winnetka, Ill. Lillian Smith calls this book "Exquisite."

Of course, "But Not Next Door," mentioned earlier, which already has received fine reviews in the N. Y. HERALD TRIBUNE, N. Y. POST, CHICAGO SUN-TIMES and CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Look for reviews due soon in THE REPORTER and the N. Y. TIMES. Of this book, Mrs. FDR says, "Superbly written.....an exciting and encouraging account of how two hundred white families fought for the right of Negroes to live in their all-white community. Every thinking person owes it to himself to read this....account of what happened when a community is forced to face its conscience. The issues in Deerfield have to be faced across the land. Deerfield is the Little Rock of housing."

PLEASE PHONE FRIENDS and ask them to buy "But Not Next Door" at the major bookstores which report to best seller lists.

A GOOD SOURCE OF SPEAKERS on housing is the American Freedom of Residence Fund, 176 West Adams, Chicago 3, Ill. AFRF can help you arrange programs such as "The Characters Review the Book" with key Deerfield residents and other actual key figures who appear in the book acting as participants. Do write them.

MCD GOALS

Better planning, better design, for people, are MCD goals. We try to fight the growth of "slumburbia" and to plan for the higher standards of living that gradually are changing all our lives. This means, for example, that recreational areas can be as essential as schools and libraries, if not more so. Thus planned integrated communities are better to live in--for you--as well as your friends.

WHEN YOU MOVE--Let us help you find better housing in integrated communities. We can help you in: Washington, D. C., New York, Connecticut, Philadelphia, Chicago, California, and Princeton, N. J.

I personally would welcome the scrutiny of our files by the Civil Rights Commission [it would keep us on our toes]. However, Congress may not have intended this and there may be some governmental or departmental reasons why this should not be done.

As to the form of the letter, I don't like it. When you decide to refuse a request, I think its best to just say no rather than saying, "...written summaries will, in my judgment, make it unnecessary for your staff to review directly with each of our attorneys his method of handling the particular case." I would favor saying, "There is just so much time in a day and the handling of these cases by the individual lawyers has been reviewed by my supervisors and by me. If you feel we are wrong or if you are concerned about how the matter has been handled, I want to know about it and will be happy to discuss any file with you."

As to furnishing written summaries to the Civil Rights Commission, if more extensive than a copy of our closing report, or copies of our letter to the United States Attorney with proposed indictment, we are creating another call upon our time -- time which could better be devoted to action.

SUMMARY: send the Civil Rights Commission copies of our closing reports and copies of letters to the United States Attorney with a copy of the indictment on all complaints which they send to us.

My publisher is bringing out my book Gomillion vs Lightfoot as a paperback shortly. I would like to add a page or two bringing the situation up to date. Have you at hand the figures on how many Negroes have registered in Macon County since you obtained your injunction against the registrars in March, 1961?

Are there any other pertinent effects of the Gomillion decision, in your opinion, which I ought to take note of in my epilogue? I would like to know, for instance, how many voting cases you now have pending and what you feel the general effect of the Gomillion decision to have been elsewhere throughout the South, as well as in Macon County—if it has had any effect generally.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Also enclosed is a copy of a mimeographed sheet which is being circulated in our scenic little community, it having been prepared and distributed by no less than an Episcopal minister from Trussville. It ought to be good for a laugh.

Please make certain that no contact is made by anyone in Washington with Eddie Reid or anyone in Alabama respecting the potential site for an appearance by the Attorney General. Nikita Accepts Limited Checks Would Permit Foreign Teams To Make Two Or Three Trips Year

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has agreed in principle to international inspection on Soviet soil as part of any nuclear test ban, it was disclosed tonight. Khrushchev's move in letters to President Kennedy dated Dec. 10 and Jan. 7, and made public tonight in Washington and Moscow, raised cautious new hopes for a test ban agreement.

The exchange of letters led to the disclosure that the U. S. Soviet test ban talks in New York this past week. These talks will now resume in Washington Thursday, with British also present.

In his Dec. 10 letter, Khrushchev offered "in cases where it would be considered necessary" to permit international inspection to make two to three trips. Semiyon K. Tseretkin, Soviet director in Moscow to check against armament negotiation in Geneva, said that the U. S. move toward a U. S. arms control and disarmament continued with unbroken force.

Docks Union Accepts Plan Of Board

Decision Of Shippers Is Deferred

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (UPI)—President Kennedy's fact-finding panel proposed tonight that longshoremen and shipping management agree on a 3-cent package increase over a two-year contract to end the month-old dock strike on East and Gulf ports. The longshoremen accepted but the Shipmen Assn. deferred a decision until Tuesday.

Alviner Chapin, chairman of the New York Shipping Assn., said the longshoremen's offer was a "valuable step" but that the union's offer to make no decision on the mediation panel until after association members met at 2:30 p. m. EST Tuesday.

The three-man presidential board headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D. Ore., received the acceptance of the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) about three hours after the package increase was proposed to the ILA and the New York Shipping Assn. at a joint meeting in a hotel here.

Harvard Prof. James H. Hines, a member of the panel, said: "The ILA has used unanimous agreement to accept the terms of the proposal presented to them by the presidential board. The industry has not yet accepted the proposal and I have no idea of when they will."

The ILA had stated earlier that any strike ending agreement would have to be voted on by a membership meeting scheduled immediately for next Wednesday.

Tornadoes Strike Southeast States

Wintry weather unleashed a tripling of an attack on the nation Sunday in the form of a cold wave, blizzard conditions and tornadoes.

A massive cold wave stretched from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians. The leading edge of the cold air mass spawned several tornadoes in Georgia and Florida, causing several injuries and heavy property damage.

Another killing storm was reported in the Florida Valley. The weather service reported that the storm was accompanied by high winds and heavy rain.

Liverpool Speech Will Deal With Common Market

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP) — Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill is expected to make a speech in Liverpool tomorrow to announce the British government's reply to the French proposal for a common market.

The prime minister had a long conference with Lord Home and Lord Lloyd, British cabinet members, before he prepared his reply to the French.

The prime minister said that the British government is not likely to make any dramatic announcement in Liverpool.

The announcement in Liverpool is expected to be a statement of the British government's policy on the common market.

British policy remains, they said, to continue with the negotiations to join the economic community as long as the price will permit. But it is not to be in a completely short time.

Health is reported to parliament on Wednesday, on his return to Brussels and the general state of the negotiations following the French series of conferences last Monday in Paris.

Arthur Eugene Fisher

I received the following information by telephone today from Mr. W. C. Patton of the NAACP in Memphis.

According to Mr. Patton, at 6:45 p.m. on February 4th, 1963, a Negro named Arthur Eugene Fisher, of 1698 South Parkway East in Memphis, was beaten by Sergeant R. M. Henderson and Patrolmen M. S. Willis and S. H. Weir. The beating took place at the Armour Center, a police headquarters. It was reportedly witnessed by Kenneth Starck, a reporter on the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Will you please look into this?

Dear Rabbi Regner:

The Attorney General asked me to thank you for your courtesy in sending him a copy of the Race Relations Message issued by the Central Conference.

We are all indebted to the increasing activity by religious groups in educating the people of this nation on their problems and obligations in race relations. I think we are making great progress as a whole, in the South. But certainly we still have a massive job, and not only in the South.

Mr. M:

When Mr. Sather talked to Judge Johnson yesterday, Judge Johnson raised two points, which I in turn want to raise with you.

1. He asked what government attorney he could appoint to appear as amicus in the Macon County school case. I talked to Slim about this, and Slim suggested that the Judge might ask the Attorney General to appear and leave open the designation of a specific attorney. John Doar was going to call Judge Johnson today about other matters; perhaps you would like John to take that up with the Judge, or possibly you would want to call the Judge yourself.

2. Mr. Sather and I were in error about the briefs and memoranda that Judge Johnson wanted copies of. He was interested in the Prince George County suit. Slim advises me we have done no memoranda in that case, but Slim has given me a copy of the letter to United States Attorney Shaheen explaining our theory, and I will have Mr. Sather deliver a copy of that letter to Judge Johnson, if that is alright.

Dear Mr. Marshall:

At the suggestion of Judge Robert A. Ainsworth, Jr. of New Orleans I am bringing to your attention a proposed research project: EMERGING PATTERNS OF DESEGREGATION IN A SOUTHERN CITY.

The depth and breadth of this study encompasses the critical sociological problem of our time and our nation. Our professional advisory board is made up of the key people in this community who wish to do something constructive about the problem.

Our project has been submitted (early in Dec. 1962) to Dr. Francis A. J. Ianni of the Cooperative Research branch of the Office of Education and to Dr. Robert H. Felix of the National Institute of Mental Health. The aims and objectives of this study have also been discussed with Mr. Philip H. DesMarais, Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Department of Health, Education & Welfare; with Mr. Beryl I. Bernhard, Commissioner of Civil Rights; Judge Robert A. Ainsworth and Judge John Minor Wisdom.

EMERGING PATTERNS OF DESEGREGATION IN A SOUTHERN CITY

Significance of the Study

This decade has seen a series of court decisions bring to a climax the heretofore slow pace of the Negro-Caucasian interracial relationships. With the "separate but equal" doctrine of the South denied, many legal barriers that once separated the races in education, housing, employment, recreation and the like are now down.

In many instances, not limited to the South, the psychological barriers that separate the races are such that neither a 100-year old war nor the current decisions of the supreme judiciary of the land have been able to overcome them. Military force only has insured compliance with federal orders, but the basic problem cannot be solved by legal fiat or military force.

So great are the stakes involved in national mental health, education and general welfare, not to mention domestic and international politics, that the sponsors of this project cannot overstress the importance of studying desegregation problems first hand. The data so obtained will be of incalculable help in arriving at an understanding of the basic individual psychology as well as group mass-psychological phenomenon that operate in this area.

Facilities

A. The city of New Orleans is an excellent experimental area for a study of the psycho-social forces at play in Negro-Caucasian desegregation.

1. Within the metropolitan New Orleans area are several "enclaves" whose socio-economic and racial characteristics are identical with certain other rural Southern areas thus making it possible to formulate hypotheses relevant to both urban and rural areas.

2. The city of New Orleans has been and still is being used as a testing ground by integration and segregation forces.

B. The Psychological Service Center of New Orleans, Inc. is in a uniquely favorable position to carry out these studies since:

1. it is situated in the city of New Orleans
2. it is independent of existing schools, colleges, and city, state and federal agencies that have a real or suspected bias

3. Our staff of consultants is drawn from both
Negro and Caucasian professional sources

C. The Tulane University IBM Computer Center is available to us for data processing.

Nature of the Research Plan

A. This study is initiated for a three year period as a continuing project which will enable us to trace this psycho-social phenomenon in depth for a period of time.

B. A multi-disciplinary research design is contemplated which will enable us to investigate those specific factors which have fostered or hindered the desegregation of the races in such areas as:

1. education
2. transportation
3. restaurant and retail trade
4. religion
5. labor & management
6. politics
7. public health
8. crime - juvenile delinquency

9. agencies (non-governmental)
10. housing
11. hotel and motel accommodations
12. meetings
13. entertainment and recreation
14. social activities.
15. communications

C. The units of study will be selected cases in which the racial barrier has been broken.

Methods of Procedure

Information on specific cases of desegregation will be obtained from both the Negro and Caucasian communities. We will establish and maintain contact with the leaders of the Negro community through:

- a) Urban League of New Orleans
- b) Dillard University
- c) Xavier University of Louisiana
- d) Louisiana Weekly (local Negro newspaper publication)
- e) Negro labor unions
- f) National Association for Advancement of Colored People - New Orleans Branch
- g) Negro Business League of New Orleans

The following information was obtained from the Negro community:

h) Negro Coordinating Council

From the Caucasian community the newspapers of the city of New Orleans: The Times-Picayune and States-Item, will provide us with sources of desegregation information. Contact will be maintained with:

- a) New Orleans Chamber of Commerce
- b) Tulane University
- c) Loyola University of the South
- d) Louisiana State University in New Orleans
- e) Young Men's Business Club
- f) Social Welfare Planning Council
- g) New Orleans' school boards
- h) White Citizens Council

Our professional staff will analyze these situations and decide what data will be needed in order to further the understanding of the social, psychological, political or educational aspects that the specific case involves. They will create all questionnaires and other necessary materials to be used by the field staff.

The field staff will take the questionnaires and interview the principal and ancillary personnel involved. The control studies will come from matched Negro and Caucasian groups who have avoided being involved in the local desegregation movement.

The information obtained will be coded for IBM data processing.

Results

We feel that the proposed study will result in:

1. The creation of a body of knowledge about the psychological and social forces involved in desegregation.
2. The development of principles of individual and group dynamics operating in desegregation cases.
3. The development of superior methods and techniques for handling future desegregation situations.

These results will be so organized as to be recoverable and repeatable for future follow-up studies.

Dear Reverend Jones:

The Attorney General has asked me to reply to your letter of January 24, which he greatly appreciated receiving.

There is no question but that there are many church groups which have assumed, I think quite recently, a greatly increased responsibility for leadership in meeting the racial problems of our country. This is a very important development for the nation.

Some weeks ago, the organization Neighbors, Inc. kindly consented to send its representatives to a meeting in the White House which was conducted by Mr. Lee White, Assistant Special Counsel to the President. The organization's program, and the details of your neighborhood were at that time made known to a representative group of officials from the various departments and agencies in the Executive Branch. As a follow-up, you might want to discuss this with Pedro Sanjuan in the State Department, who is very active and interested. We do try to keep this kind of thing in mind, but have no organized housing placement service.

I hope that it continues to be successful.

The Hon. Robert F. Kennedy
Attorney General of the United States
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

Recently the campus political party, with which I am associated, contacted the Mississippi State Sovereignty Commission concerning the possibility of obtaining one of their speakers for the University of Idaho student body. The purpose of their speaker, according to a letter sent to an area newspaper, is to present information concerning the recent problems at the University of Mississippi. The chairman of the commission is Governor Ross R. Barnett, the director is Albert Jones, and Erle Johnston Jr. is the public relations director.

Mr. Johnston replied to our letter and informed us that they would send State Representative Sutton Marks of Jackson, Mississippi. We have made arrangements for Mr. Marks to appear at the University at 7:30 the evening of February 18.

While the Mississippi State Sovereignty Commission has not informed us of the exact nature of their presentation, I feel that it will be a justification of Governor Barnett's actions preceding and during the riots at the University of Mississippi. It is possible that their presentation will be severely slanted and misleading.

If the students are to get educational benefit from this type of presentation it is important that the information they receive is correct. A representative of the Justice Department would serve as an authority on the legal stand of the Federal Government. Would it be possible to have a representative of your office appear at the same time to clarify the legal issues involved and possibly correct any information that might be misleading? This is not intended to be in the nature of a debate and is not intended to be embarrassing to any participant.

If it is not possible for a representative of your office to attend, can you refer me to an organization that will serve the purpose I have indicated? Our funds are limited and we cannot assume any expenses involved.

Campus Union Party is a student political party and as such is not affiliated with the student government of the University of Idaho.
